

Description of hadrons with covariant quark model

Monday, 2 June 2014 17:10 (0:20)

Collaboration

Abstract content

The covariant quark model is a successful tools for a unified description of the multi-quark states (mesons, baryons, tetraquarks, ...) which is based on an effective quantum field approach to hadronic interactions. It is well suited to provide a theoretical framework in connection with existing or expected results from heavy quark factories. The model, its basic features and chosen results will be presented.

Primary author(s) : ALEKSEEVICH IVANOV, Mikhail (Joint Institute for Nuclear Research)

Co-author(s) : LIPTAJ, Andrej (Institute of Physics SAS); DUBNICKA, Stanislav (Institute of Physics SAS); DUBNICKOVA, Anna Zuzana (Comenius University)

Presenter(s) : LIPTAJ, Andrej (Institute of Physics SAS)

Session Classification : Parallel Session B4