

Exotic mesonic and baryonic objects in lattice QCD

Thursday, 2 June 2016 11:30 (0:30)

Collaboration

Abstract content

Recent progress in lattice calculations of exotic hadronic states is reviewed. The theoretical and algorithmic advances that are enabling new calculations are described and results from heavy and light quark systems are presented. The challenges for lattice exotic hadron spectroscopy are highlighted.

Primary author(s) : RYAN, Sinead (Trinity College Dublin)

Presenter(s) : RYAN, Sinead (Trinity College Dublin)

Session Classification : Plenary Session