

Progress on Hadronic Molecules

Tuesday, 12 June 2018 12:30 (0:30)

Collaboration

Abstract content

85 years after the first hadronic molecule, the deuteron, was discovered, now we have a few candidates for its analogies. I will review some recent progress in this field.

Primary author(s) : ZOU, Bing-Song (Institute of Theoretical Physics, CAS)

Presenter(s) : ZOU, Bing-Song (Institute of Theoretical Physics, CAS)

Session Classification : Plenary Session